RELIGIOUS NOTICE.

Rev. G. S. WEAVER will preach at the City Hall on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, 24th and 25th inst. Subject on Wednesday evening: "The Rich Man and Lazarus;" on Thursday evening: "The Presence of the Lord," from the text—"Who shall be punished with everlasting destruction from the presence of the Lord and the glory of his power"—2 Thess. i. 9.

The public generally are invited to attend.

REMEMBER the Temperance Meeting at the Christian Church next Tuesday night.

REMEMBER, that the question before the city at the coming city election is—"Shall the city by ordinance prohibit the sale of intoxicating liquors within the city limits?" Neither the "Maine Liquor Law" nor any other State prohibitory law is now before the people.

RELIGIOUS NOTICE.

The Christian Church will, (the Lord willing,) commence a meeting in their house in this city, next Wednesday, the 31st, at 11 o'clock, A. M. Elder D. P. Henderson and others have promised to attend.

PLEASURE EXCURSION.

The Ben Campbell is a fine, handsome steamer, and one of the fastest on the river. And, what is an important item for those who like comfort and particularly good treatment, DAN ABLE is Captain.

The Ben Campbell will run on a Pleasure Excursion to Keokuk and return, on Thursday and Friday, the 1st and 2nd days of September. All who wish to enjoy themselves delightfully for a season, will not neglect this rare opportunity.

Our thanks are tendered for an invitation. We shall certainly be on hand.

The Ben Campbell has been purchased by the Keokuk Company, and takes the place of the Jeannie Deans.

C. W. Bryan continues to add names to his list of testimonials in favor of his stoves. These are substantial arguments.

The comet spoken of by the St. Louis papers was observed by some of our citizens yesterday evening.

The Mississippi river, which has been quite low, is now rising.

LOST! LOST!!

A small Pearl Handle Pen-Knife—one blade cut. The finder will confer a favor by leaving it at this Office or William McDaniel's.

The Courier of this morning has four columns of war upon the Maine Liquor Law. We advise the editor to devote six columns of his next number to the discussion of the question whether the "Man in the Moon" is a mile tall and large in proportion, or only the size of human beings.

We suggest this question because we should like to see the editor spread himself on a question which he probably knows as much about as he does about the Maine Liquor Law; because it would be fresher than a soporific volume of re-hashed rant; and because it is a question as much to be decided at the coming city election as the Maine Liquor Law.

The editor of the Courier smells a horrible plot every time a whip opens his mouth—if it's only to enquire the price of butter and eggs—and immediately advises his democratic friends to scamper!

Pity for his own sake, that he has not as keen a nose for brimstone! If he had he might discover the real "friend at his elbow" who puts into his heart so much falsehood and misrepresentation.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 21.

Interments 270, including 248 of yellow fever. Deaths for the week 1,580, of which 1,350 were of yellow fever.

The Comet.—The Alton Telegraph states that the comet now visible was discovered at Göttingen, on the 10th of June last. Its perihelion passage occurs on the 27th inst., when its brightness will probably be much greater than at present.

GREAT SALE OF IMPORTED STOCK.—The North Kentucky Stock Company has recently made a heavy importation of fine stock from England. This stock was recently offered for sale, at auction, in Bourbon county, and a letter from Paris gives the result as follows:

PARIS, Ky., Aug. 18, 1853.—The great sale of the stock of the Northern Kentucky Importing Company, closed to-day. There was a tremendous crowd in attendance, and the bidding quite spirited and animated, and very high prices realized.

For the first Bull and the Stallion, there was a great contention between Bourbon, Fayette and Clark counties, which should outbid. But old Bourbon came out triumphant, paying for the Bull $6,000, and for the Stallion upwards of $2,800. The other bulls went at $4,500, $4,000, and $2,800, etc. The Cows and Heifers at $3,200, $2,300, $1,200, $1,000, etc. The first Sheep or Buck was eagerly contended for, but old Bourbon bid him off at $1,010; others went for $700, $400, and so on down. Most of the stock was sold to Bourbon, Fayette and Clark. The cost of the stock in England, and all the expenses up to this time are $32,000. They sold to-day for $56,000—a pretty good investment.

GREAT PEGGING MATCH AT NORTH DANVERS, BETWEEN ALEXANDER STEELE AND JOHN J. BUNKER.—On Thursday, August 4th, the above named gentlemen, on a wager of $25, pegged one hundred and sixty pairs of women's spring-heeled shoes, working ten hours, Steele pegging 82 pairs and Bunker 78 pairs; Steele's being at the rate of 8 1-5 per hour, driving upwards of thirty-five pegs per minute, and Bunker 7 4-5 pairs per hour, or more than 34 pegs per minute, together driving 41,920 pegs in ten hours. Though Bunker didn't quite equal his opponent in the number of pairs, in the execution of the work he excelled. The last part of the work was performed, while the blood was oozing from their fingers' ends, notwithstanding which, Bunker performed the usual amount of labor the following day.—Boston Times.

MESSENGERS EDITORS:

As you have along with other whig papers in the 2d district, published the article referred to by the "Record," it is but justice to Mr. Porter, and the Whigs of the district, that you should copy the Record's article. There is a reason why Porter's name has been omitted in this list of "aspirants," as they are called, but the trick is too shallow to deceive the Whigs of this District. They will not so easily throw aside the staunch, the true, the never failing Whig, Porter, at the bidding of any. They have not so soon forgotten the services of Porter in past times, and when the proper time comes they will show the world that they are not ungrateful.

I do not know that Mr. Porter desires the nomination, but as he has been ever ready in sunshine and in darkness, in days of prosperity and adversity to serve the Whig party at their will, I presume he will not be found among the missing if called on next August. He is the decided choice of the Whigs of this portion of the district, and I have no doubt of a majority of the entire district. Please publish the enclosed article and oblige,

Your Friend, &c.,

"VOX POPULI."

(From the Louisiana Record.)
Guess Again.

The last North-East Missourian contains some speculation in regard to who is to be the Whig nominee for Congressional honors in the Second District at the next election. The editors of that paper must have got their information from a questionable source at least, and had better not put too much confidence in what they hear until it is more fully established. They say that "the following gentlemen are spoken of as probable aspirants for the Whig nomination in this district—Maj. Jas. S. Rollins and Col. W. F. Switzer, of Boone; Hon. Preston B. Reed, of Callaway; Capt. Wm. Carson, and Thomas L. Anderson, of Marion." Now, if the people of the district are actually comparing the relative qualities of these gentlemen with a view to their nomination, the Missourian does well in telling its readers about it. But we think that their list is like the Loco-Foco platform which let Claib. Jackson down—it wants another plank. And in Hon. Gilchrist Porter we have the timber to make it. Is the Missourian fearful lest the services rendered to the State by Mr. Porter, and which has caused a mutual and lasting affection to spring up between him and his constituents, will not be forgotten, and therefore wishes to congratulate the democracy upon the probability that the man whom they have learned to fear will not trouble them in August next? We say this without wishing to undervalue either of the men whom the editors of the Missourian tell us are "spoken of as probable aspirants for the Whig nomination." Many of them are good Whigs, and possess qualifications which would enable them to serve in the capacity of Representative with honor to themselves and profit to those who, in the event of their election, which they would be called to represent.

But the Whigs—unlike the Loco-Focos, who always feel sure of success when they either have a man on the political race course who the people know nothing of and manages to keep a pleasing exterior and knows how to tell a good democratic anecdote, or who is skillful enough when he has done wrong to make the people believe that he did not do it purposely—are most willing to trust the one of their number who is best known, and more especially, as in the present instance, the one who has shown by his works that he loves his State and regards with a jealous eye its best interests.

We think it unnecessary for the Loco-Focos to give themselves much uneasiness about the Whig nominee yet, when he is put on the track they will recognize him. We are not much surprised that the organs of the defeated party should, for want of a more pleasing subject, be trying to find out who they have to contend against at the next election, so they can form some estimate of the possibilities of success. They lost so much in the late election that it becomes them to look well to the future and try and make up their losses; and lest they should stumble on a wrong conclusion and deceive themselves by the flattering hope that their success is certain, we say to them—put it down and carry it with you, that when you next bring out your champion for the race he will have to contend with a strong and valiant competitor, and, in all probability, one who knows and has traveled the road before.

It will embrace a greater variety and be more commanding, and general, than they have ever offered in this market. Every article the requirements of the retail trade demands, can be obtained from them.

It will be their constant exertion to so conduct their business, as to make it the interest of the merchants to deal with them. Every article in their stock, will be sold as low as it can be obtained in this city, or delivered from New York or Boston. It is their desire to do business with responsible merchants and in such a manner, that when once commenced, it will continue. They know their success depends solely upon the success of their customers, and it will be their aim to make their intercourse with merchants, mutually and reciprocally beneficial. They ask from merchants who visit St. Louis this fall, a thorough examination of their stock and price.

TO THE PROPERTY HOLDERS OF HANNIBAL.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Hannibal and St. Joseph Railroad Company, convened in this city on the 25th inst., it was Resolved, That the Engineer in-Chief, in addition to the power already conferred on him by a resolution of this Board, be and he is hereby instructed to cause a full and complete examination of the routes through Collier street, and also any other route that in his judgment may be deemed advisable for the interest of the Railroad Company, and to prepare an estimate of the cost of these several routes, together with their relative working and prospective values to the interest of said Road, and that he be also empowered to ascertain upon what terms the right of way for said Road can be obtained upon the several routes, and also to receive propositions from land holders or their agents, upon what terms the necessary amount of land can be obtained upon the banks of the Mississippi river, and upon such other places in or adjacent to the city limits, for such other amount of land as he may deem necessary for the use of the Company for the necessary buildings, and that he be required to report at the next meeting of the Board, and all powers conferred on committees heretofore appointed in reference to getting the right of way through the city of Hannibal, and getting land for depots and other buildings, necessary for the wants of the Company, be and is hereby repealed.

Propositions for the sale of lands to the Hannibal and St. Joseph Railroad Company, for a site for Depot, &c., in the city of Hannibal, in accordance with the above resolution, are invited from the property holders, and will be received at the office of the undersigned, on or before the first Monday in September next.

The quantity of ground necessary for the use of the company for the terminus, will be not less than five acres; on or near the river, and ten additional acres, lying in a body on or near the line of Road, a distance not exceeding two miles from the river.

Propositions should be sealed, and endorsed "Proposal for sale of ground for Depot," and contain an accurate description of the ground, its locality, quantity, &c., with reference made to a plat of the city.

JAMES M. BUCKLIN,

Chf. Engr. H. & St. J. R. R.

Hannibal, July 29th, 1853.—d&wtd.
City papers copy, and send bill to Railroad Office.

THE DART.—Major Bucklin requests us to state that propositions from property holders will be received for any amount, from five acres down. Five acres was named as the amount of land that would be required for a depot, and it certainly can make no difference with Major Bucklin or the Board of Directors, whether propositions for the sale of any five acres come from one man or a dozen men, separately or in combination. The object is to ascertain where and at what price ground enough for a depot can be obtained. A number of persons might combine to make up the amount required; or they may separately, or any one that chooses, may send in propositions to sell indefinitely small amounts.

WOODMAN'S

CELEBRATED SOAP!!

THE above celebrated soap is an article which every family, hotel, laundry, boarding house, &c., will find upon a careful trial, to be the very thing required for economy and saving of labor:

1st. Because clothes can be washed in one fourth the time.
2d. They require no rubbing or pounding, thereby saving labor, and the injurious effects of the old method.
3d. It bleaches and leaves them purely white, and for colored cloths it is unsurpassed, as it does not extract the dye, but has a tendency to set the color. For washing paint and windows it cannot be excelled.

It is warranted not to injure the clothes in any way. It is put up in boxes of ten pounds each. Full directions on each box for the use of it.

The Soap can be had at the house of John Davis, who is sole agent for Marion county, on Fifth street, near Wm. Green's Hemp Press, or of Curtis & Lookwood, on Main, near Hill street. (aug3dtf)
